

News Business Sport Motoring Entertainment LifeStyle Cooltech Travel Food Health Financial Fitness Property Tools

SA News World News Features Politics Special Reports Galleries Quirky & Bizarre

Last Upd: 05:01pm 25

SEARCH

Search input field with placeholder text "... the website" and a "GO >" button.

Cabinet in special meeting

Mon, 25 Oct 2010 5:14

Recommend Be the first of your friends to recommend this.

WEATHER

Ctn | Dbn | Jhb | Other

13° 21° > More

INDICATORS

$ = R 6.92
£ = R 10.87
€ = R 9.68
Oil = $ 82.78
Gold = $ 1334.05
Last Update: 17:10 25 Oct 10

SPONSORED LINKS >

- Business travel experts
Life Insurance Quote
Cars Online
Save on your insurance
Property Search
Online Dating
Local sleepovers
Henrie's Recipes
Book flights online!
Work money smarter
Wine of the Week
Win the Lottery
Go shopping!
Convert anything

Ministers and deputy ministers were all absent from the public eye as they attended a special Cabinet meeting in Pretoria on Monday.

Details of what the special cabinet meeting were not immediately available.

A short statement released on Monday afternoon by Government Communications read: "Government Spokesperson, Mr Thembu Maseko, would like to inform members of the media that the Special Cabinet meeting that President Jacob Zuma has convened today, 25 October 2010, is still in session and will end later on in the day. Members of the media will be advised later on the way forward."

Speculation in media circles has been rife that Zuma will this week reshuffle his cabinet, and an earlier press release by Government Communications did not deny the reshuffle. It urged the media to allow the ministers to continue with their usual duties.

"Government has noted the ongoing media speculation about a cabinet reshuffle including names that are being proposed by the media for appointment or removal. We wish to emphasise that any change to the composition of the Executive is the prerogative of the President of the Republic of South Africa."

The Weekend Argus newspaper reported on Sunday that Zuma was set to make several "possible key changes" to his Cabinet, and that special meeting on Monday was an attempt to formulate a new economic growth strategy.

Science and Technology Minister Naledi Pandor was scheduled to attend the release of the Human Sciences Research Council's annual results, but speakers at the event said she could not attend because of "an urgent cabinet meeting".

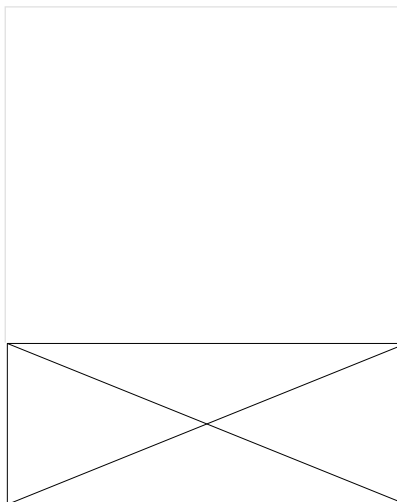

Join us on Facebook FOLLOW ME ON TWITTER

Sapa

President Jacob Zuma. AFP

Most Read Talked About Editor's Choice

GET IN TOUCH >>

Got something to say? Click here to send a mail to News editor Ryan Bubeare.

MORE FEATURES

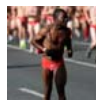

NHI: do we need it?

We chatted to the DA's shadow health minister about the party's approach to health care.

It takes some balls...

Over 650 men took to the streets in Joburg wearing speedos to raise awareness about cancer.

It's a state of mind...

ANCYL geniuses are made, not born. Granted, in this case, genius is a loose term. Very loose.

RSS Digg de.li.cious facebook

Print this article Email to a friend Add a comment

USER COMMENTS >